

THE SAFETY ZONE

Stay Clear. Stay Safe.

A downed power line is deadly. If you spot a fallen wire, keep at least 10 metres away, even if it doesn't appear to be live.

If a wire falls across your car, don't get out — you could become a path for electricity if you touch the ground. If you must get out, hop out clear of the car and land on both feet, then hop or shuffle until you are 10 metres clear of the vehicle.

Don't take a chance with your life. Before starting work near power lines or to report an electrical safety hazard call your local electrical utility.
