"Taking care of Business" Licence Renewal

Visit kelowna.ca/business and register for a Property Account to quickly and conveniently apply for, or renew, your annual business licence online. Benefits:

- access historical bills and business licences
- print your business licence
- go paperless and choose e-billing to receive bills via email
- pay online by credit card or online banking
- edit your account information

Renew before the January 15 deadline to avoid a $25 late payment fee.

A business licence is required to own or operate a business in Kelowna which includes retail and commercial establishments, management and professional firms, home businesses and even short-term rentals. Operating without a business licence can result in compliance action and fines.

Licencees may notice their invoice will look different this year. The City has recently adopted a new Business Licence Bylaw No. 12585. This will impact all business licence type codes and associated fees. Learn more about these changes at Kelowna.ca/business.
